

PUBLIC NOTICE OF SIGN CODE UPDATE WORKSHOP CITY OF BUCKLEY PLANNING COMMISSION

The City of Buckley and the Planning Commission will host a Sign Code Workshop at the Planning Commission's regularly-scheduled meeting on Monday, April 19 at 7:00 p.m. to gather business and public feedback on desired updates to Buckley's Sign Code; found in Buckley Municipal Code \(BMC\) Chapter 19.30. Buckley's sign code regulates signage throughout the city to enhance and protect property values; create a more attractive economic climate; enhance and protect Buckley's scenic and natural beauty; reduce distractions, obstructions, and hazards; protect open space and the natural environment; and protect individual property rights.

The City and Planning Commission have found that updates are warranted throughout Buckley's sign code and therefore will turn its April 19 meeting into a workshop to hear initial ideas, requests and desired priorities for Buckley's sign code updates. Buckley businesses interact with the sign code most frequently and directly so participation from businesses is particularly welcomed, although anyone from the public is also encouraged to join and participate in this workshop or subsequent meetings. As sign code updates will be a several month's-long process there will be more opportunities for business and public input on the sign code updates beyond this workshop, including at subsequent Planning Commission meetings and at an eventual public hearing.

This April 19 Sign Code Workshop will be held in the Buckley Multipurpose Center Hearing Room at 811 Main St. in Buckley. Due to COVID-19 Phase 2, room capacity will be limited to 19 people. The following optional remote/virtual meeting option is available:
